

Pitch Board

Ammar's Art Gallery:

In this website, I will be showcasing the art pieces that I have made over the years. It is a very unique kind of art that isn't done a lot. My art consists of logos and character designs made entirely out of metal soda cans such as Coke and Sprite.

Personas:

Art student

Comicbook fan

Shorthand flow

This shorthand flow represents what the user can do on the website, such as scroll through the art gallery page and click through between the "main" and the "art gallery" pages

Wireframes:

These were my basic ideas/mockups for what I wanted the site to look like. It is straightforward but it has a good design that is very easy to read/understand and it gets the point of the website across pretty well
